The following message is for Healthcare Providers and First Responders:

The Clinician Outreach and Communication Activity (COCA)/CDC will have a webinar on "EMS and Ebola: Field Experience with Transporting Patients". Speakers from Emory University and the University of Nebraska will provide information on the field experiences of EMS personnel transporting Ebola patients and discuss unique planning considerations for EMS. This presentation will occur on Monday, December 15, 2014 from 2:00-3:00 PM (Eastern Time). Additional information on the presentation, including the call-in number and passcode, can be found on the COCA/CDC website at:
